Communication and Literacy

In class we are: Using a sensory story called 'The Party', a fun sensory story about getting ready for and enjoying a celebration.

At home please: Support your child by enjoying simple celebrations together, such as singing favourite songs, dancing, blowing bubbles or having a pretend party with family members.

Physical Development

In class we are: developing our strength, balance and coordination.

At home please: encourage active play, such as crawling through tunnels made from blankets and chairs, balancing on low surfaces and carrying or pushing objects safely.

PSED

In class we are: Learning about our likes, interests and strengths and beginning to recognise how our actions can bring enjoyment to ourselves and the people around us.

At home please: offer choices throughout the day, spend time enjoying your child's favourite activities together.

Expressive Art and Design

In class we are: exploring music, movement and celebration through songs, instruments, dancing and sensory play.

At home please: sing favourite songs together, dancing to music, exploring simple musical instruments or household objects that make sounds. Celebrate and copy your child's movements, sounds and actions to encourage interaction, communication and enjoyment.

Understanding the World

In class we are: Exploring the world around us through exciting investigations involving lights, colours, shadows, materials and celebrations.

At home please: look for different light sources at home, exploring colours during play, noticing shadows, and talking about seasonal changes and celebrations in your community.

Numeracy

In class we are: developing our understanding of number names, counting, and quantities through hands-on experiences involving party bags, birthday cakes, presents, balloons and role play

At home please: sing number rhymes together, counting during everyday routines, noticing when there is more or less of something, and playing simple hide-and-find games with favourite toys.
